Hi Lance,

I am interested in joining your team for Charter Express. I like the idea because it is B2B, it seems simple enough to complete for the class, and has some real world applications to potentially be a business.

I am familiar with Express.js and MySQL for the back end. I am also very familiar with Vue.js for the front end and I think I could help a lot with that.

Let me know if you still have availability for me to join your team.
